Dear Editor,

I am outraged and disgusted with people who still dump trash and garbage along our road sides and creeks and streams. With all the information on TV and radio about polluting you would think people would be concerned about our wild life and fish. Don't they know the garbage thrown in our waters kill the fish and if they aren't killed they are uneatable.

Only this week I spotted garbage thrown down an enbankment in Cub Creek which has fish. I wanted to retrive it but there was no way I could get to it safely (being a lady). So I am going to get a man to retrive it, hopefully before it does damage. Also, trash was thrown in a seldom used [illegible] I wish I could have seen who did it or if I find a name on paper in the trash I intend to do something about it. So you people who are dumping trash along our streams and roadsides better make sure your name isn't in the trash.

Why are they doing this? Could it be they don't know about our new city dump? Could it be they are too lazy to take it where it belongs? Why don't they drive a few extra miles to ensure their safety from pollution as well as the Wild Life and Fish?

Dear Editor:

I feel compelled to write this letter as I think it is high time that the tax payers begin to wake up to this Watergate Committee and ask the question "has the show that they have been putting on been worth the cost?" It looks like it should be clear to every one that the biggest thing they have been after is to get the President and to brain wash the public for use in the next election.

Well, if they want to wage a political war, go ahead, but let the ones that hope to profit by it pay the bill and not the tax payers. If Mr. Nixon has skeltons in his closet, hang them out, but after three months of hearings and spending fifty million dollars they have nothing to show for it. I think that they have showed the world that they are the dumbest bunch that has ever tried to hold an investigation and should be caged and sent home and I do mean home!

They have demanded tapes from the President which are his personal property....looks like they think they are superior over all the rest of the government and if that is so then Democracy has died on the vine. If this committee can demand the President's private property then there is no privacy left for any one, our personal mail can no longer be private. One thing I would like to know is since there was no one injured bodily nor any property damage, just what did happen to justify a multi-million dollar damage suit?

One thing that I would like to pass on to this Committee is the words of the Apostle James, "If ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed".

Unless the citizens of our country wake up and demand a house cleaning, this nation is doomed, this government has for one thing become too top-heavy and corruption has eaten in like a cancer until Washington, D. C. has become such a cesspool of graft and crime that a buzzard would have to hold his nose to fly over it.

I have been asked about Mr. Nixon's speech on television and I don't think it impressed many people. If he has popped his fist and cussed and called names and made big threats, it would have been just what the most of the people wanted to hear. Will nothing but suffering and tragedy wake people up?

Yours for God and Country,

Social Security Checks To Be Mailed Early

Social security checks for August will be delivered on Sept. 1 this year, which is "unusually early," according to Mr. William J. Vinson, social security district manager in Lynchburg.

"Checks for a given month are usually delivered on the 3rd of the following month," Mr. Vinson said. "When the 3rd falls on a day mail isn't delivered - a Sunday or a national holiday - the checks are usually delivered a day ahead, the 2nd of the month.

"This year September 2nd is a Sunday and September 3rd is Labor Day; so social security checks will be delivered on Saturday, the 1st. It doesn't happen very often," he said.

Social security pays over $4 billion a month in retirement, disability, and survivors benefits to almost 29 million people.

A Big Job

"Do you make life-size enlargements from snapshots?" asked the demure girl.

"Certainly, Miss," said the photographer; "that's our specialty."

"Well," said the girl, "see what you can do with this picture of Boulder Dam."

The Pastor Speaks

WE LOVE BY FAITH

Everything about the Christian life is based on faith. We love by faith just as we received Christ by faith: just as we walk by faith; and just as we are filled (controlled) with the Holy Spirit by faith.

If the fruit of the Spirit is love and Jesus was God's highest expression of love, then we need Jesus in absolute and full control of our lives.

Jesus has commanded us to "love each other as much as I love you" (John 15:12). Therefore, in I John 5:14, 15 God promises that if we ask anything according to His will He hears and answers us. Therefore, if we ask Him to help us love each other as much as He loves us, He will actually do it if there is no known sin in our lives.

God has an unending supply of His love for us. It is for us to claim, to grow on, to spread to others, and thus to reach hundreds and thousands of people with the only love that counts, the love that will bring them to Jesus Christ. In order to experience God's love and to be able to share it, we must claim it by faith; that is, trust His promise that He will give us all that we need to do His will, on the basis of His command and His promise.

Love is the greatest power known to man. It changed the course of the 1st century world and God is using it to bring a great revolution in the 20th Century. I Corinthians 13 says that love never fails, and nothing can overcome God's love. There must be a wedding of love and faith and this was lost during the Dark Ages. Today God is bringing back the wedding of the two - faith and love.

This love is contagious, attractive and aggressive. It creates hunger for God. If you life does not create a hunger for God, your life is not filled with God's love. Dr. Bill Bright of Campus Crusade for Christ has shared many of these thoughts with me and he suggests to make a list of people whom you do not like and begin to love them by faith. He also says that if you do not love yourself put your name at the top of the list. You must accept yourself as God does, a forgiven sinner. If Christ is in you, you are complete because Christ is perfect love, therefore grow in grace.

The Sunday School Lesson

Herbert C. Bradshaw
P. O. Box 1833
Durham, N. C. 27702

Comment on the International Sunday School lesson for September 2, 1973.

Topic: Paul speaks to the Church.

Scripture: I Corinthians 1:1-15; 3: 1-9; 5: 1-2; 2 Corinthians 1: 23-2:11; 12: 19-21.

There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call. Ephesians 4:4

In the New Testament, there is no book entitled "The Gospel According to Paul," but that topic has been chosen for the International Sunday School lessons for the quarter, September-November. The Apostle Paul frequently referred to the gospel which he preached, so the topic is not inappropriate. Its content may be gained from reading the letters Paul wrote, for in these letters he interpreted the redemptive mission of Jesus Christ as he was inspired by the Holy Spirit. Paul's gospel is not so much concerned with the life and ministry of Jesus as it is with the significance of Christ's redemptive mission and the impact redemption should have on the lives of people.

Paul preached a crucified and risen Saviour, "a stumbling block to Jews and folly to Gentiles, but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God." In his gospel Paul emphasized the Lordship of Christ and the obligation of the believer to acknowledge this Lordship and to live under it. Consequently Paul applied the standard of Jesus Christ to every area of faith and practice and called on Christians to measure up to it.

Three letters of Paul, that to the Romans and two to the Corinthians, provide the Scriptural backgrounds for the lessons of the quarter. The letter to the Corinthians provide a vivid picture of the Christian Church in one of the principal cities of Paul's day. Though 19 centuries separate the church in Corinth to which Paul wrote from churches today, the church in Corinth possessed so many striking similarities to churches today that Paul's letters to it are truly timely in counsel for dealing with contemporary situations.

Corinth was a fussy, divided church. It was a church much influenced by its environment, and in Corinth this meant materialism and immorality, for Corinth was a leading center of commerce, where people were much concerned with making money and where money and the lack of it stratified people into classes, and the traditional religion of Corinth, honoring the pagan goddess Aphrodite, glorified sex and gratification of the sexual appetite. Although Paul's preaching received encouraging response in Corinth and he established a church there, many converts continued under the influence of the secular Corinthian society. There were those who sought to serve two masters, Christ and Corinth, unwilling to give up wholly the corrupting influences of their old lives to accept without reservation the new faith proclaimed by the Jewish scholar turned Christian missionary.

In consequence, there were misplaced loyalties, some claiming to be disciples of one Christian leader, others of another. There were some unwilling to give up the immoralities of the pagan society, and Paul cited one especially flagrant case which the church mistakenly, and to its discredit, condoned.

Paul urged unity in accepting the Lordship of Christ. He rebuked those who regarded him as their master in the faith as he stressed the pre-eminence of Christ as Lord, the One to whom the allegiance of all Christians is due. Paul urged, too, the removal from Christian fellowship of those whose lives belied their Christian profession that there might be unity in adherence to the highest standards of conduct.

The basis of Christian unity is the acknowledgment of Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord. The key doctrine of the early church, the thesis of the gospel of Paul, was "Jesus Christ, Son of God, Saviour." The basis for unity in Christian practice is commitment to Christ and living in conformity to His standards. Unity is not, however, synonymous with uniformity, and people come to Christ and express their commitment and engage in worship in His name in various ways. Such diversity does not indicate a lack of unity. It does indicate that given honest differences all may find a place in Christ their Lord and be united in commitment to Him as they express the allegiance and priority of their lives.

There's also another facet, a domestic producer can sell urea for $17 more per ton for nonagricultural purposes and he can get $51 more per ton on the export market.

In summary, if you can fine a source of urea, our recommendation of 10 pounds per ton of corn silage is still a valid consideration.

It's that time of year to consider lawns. If you are seeding a lawn, in a "nutshell" here are the steps.

Apply lime for pH of 6.5.

Use 50 pounds 5-10-5 plus 25 pounds 20% Super Phosphate or equivalent per 1000 square feet.

Decide which variety--Kentucky Fescue or Bluegrass. If Fescue, seed at rate of 6 pounds per 1000 sq. ft. If you elect bluegrass, use a mix of 70% South Dakota Grown Common Bluegrass and 30% Merion Bluegrass and seed at rate of 3 pounds per 1000 sq. ft. If the lawn is shaded, one-half the bluegrass mix should be Creeping Red Fescue.

For established lawns, make the first application of fertilizer. This should be nitrogen only. Since Ammonium Nitrate is the most available form of nitrogen, use 7 pounds per 1000 sq. ft.
